DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The amendment filed on November 6, 2007 has been considered but is ineffective to place the application in condition for allowance and an action on the merits follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 6 –10 as best as can be understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hestily (4,051,880). Hestily discloses a hand router comprising a housing a tool/bit, means of suction airflow (96), a turbine (84) extra inlet and outlet gratings (fig. 1, 5) the housing comprised of tubular sections connectable by flanges (fig. 1), wherein the outlet grating has air conveying elements (84; fig. 5) and wherein the inlet grating and the outlet grating each are incorporated into a motor housing (fig. 1) to reinforce the housing.

With regard to claim 4, Hestily discloses the outlet grating serves as a bearing seating for the turbine wheel (fig. 1, 5).

With regard to claim 6, Hestily discloses wherein the suction air flow comprised of air used for driving the turbine wheel is router separately from a dust air flow so that dust-laden air sucked from a workpiece does not come into contact with moving parts of the router.

With regard to claim 7, Hestily discloses wherein the air used for driving the turbine wheel travels into the housing (fig. 4).

As to the switch (clm. 8, 9), Examiner notes the Hestily inherently discloses such as when power to the router is activated, the vacuum (96) is also activated as it is a part of the router. Examiner further notes, no positive recitation of any vacuum cleaner is made, nor any indication to the structure of the vacuum cleaner, i.e., external, internal as it relates to the router.

With regard to claim 10, Hestily discloses a grip region corresponding to a diameter of a vacuum cleaner hose (fig. 5). Examiner notes any outside region of the router is a grip region, Examiner further notes as stated above with regard to claims 8 and 9, no vacuum cleaner or vacuum hose is positively recited within the claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
